

Ladder 11

I can give relevant answers to questions using evidence from the text.

I can use evidence from the text to infer details about characters and actions.

I can identify the features a writer has used to organise a text; e.g. bullet points.

I can talk about the way a text is structured; eg. build-up, climax.

I can pick out a range of language features that the writer has used a lot of; e.g. adjectives, speech

I can comment on the overall effect on the reader using examples from the text.

I can talk about the writer's purpose and viewpoint.

I can explain why common features have been used in similar texts.

I can talk about how the time and place that a writer is from can change the meaning of a text.

I have read a range of text types and genres.